

COCKTAIL DRESSES
SUITABLE FOR EVERY WOMAN FOR ALL
OCCASIONS

Pakistani Dresses

- It is well known about women that they do not miss any opportunity when they look their best and beautiful too. To achieve this, they focus on what they wear. And in this connection, preference is given to dresses that are suitable and enhance their good appearance and looks.
- While talking of this aspects of their likes, one must not forget that cocktail dresses are considered a specialty and are considered most likeable and often used.
- Cocktail dresses can be categorized as semi-formal dress which can be worn in long size and also short size, reaching up to just above the knee. Whereas length of the long sized dress is about two inches above the ankle, the short one is a little above the knee. Names associated with the dresses are tea length cocktail dress for a long one that is two inches above the ankle and ballerina dress if the dress touches the ankle. When worn with high heels and dark shade lipstick the effect is great.

Cocktail dresses

- The special aspect of Cocktail dresses is that they fit well and add to expose the body contours. Cocktail dresses suit any sized female and manage to give a look of class. Because of their intrinsic affect, Cocktail dresses are a source of comfort and give an acceptable stylish look, when it is worn. The good thing about these dresses is that they can be made in satin, silk or chiffon and normally every wardrobe carries adequate quantities of cocktail dresses. They are available in several styles and examples are wrap cocktail dress, sleeveless cocktail dress and shoulder cocktail dress. Even the evening gowns fall in this category. Because of their universal feature of suitability, Cocktail dresses are an ideal gift for any age group and regarded as the most popular dress worn by women.

